The First Holy Communion group – two birthdays this week- HAPPY BIRTHDAY to Harriet and Sienna and all who have birthdays this month.

The March issue of the Focus (p29) deals with the Engleharts. They lived in Ansty - he an Anglican clergyman - but moved to Little Clarendon in Dinton. They became Catholics, and his wife was responsible for turning the bakehouse at Little Clarendon into the present Catholic chapel (where we have the Christmas carol service). RM

All of the Stella Maris, (formerly Apostleship of the Sea), knitted hats, chocolates and toiletries have been safely handed over to the Port Chaplain in Southampton, and he sends his thanks and gratitude to everyone for their kindness. (see photo below) I have been asked by a couple of parishioners if it would be useful if they were to knit scarves as well as hats for the seafarers, and the Chaplain informed me that scarves would be very much appreciated. I hope to organise a coffee morning / cake sale in the summer when current restrictions are lifted sufficiently.

LENTEN PRAYER

God our Father,

open the horizons of our minds and hearts

so that we can see what hope your call holds for us.

Pour out the overflowing gifts of your Spirit so that we, your Church, may become a people of hope for our world.

We ask you this through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God for ever and ever.

Our Lady, Woman of Hope, pray for us.

St Peter, Rock of Hope, pray for us.

St Paul, Apostle of Hope, pray for us.

AMEN

Prompted by the 50th anniversary of the canonisation of the Forty Martyrs, the Jesuits in Britain Archives has launched its first ever online exhibition in collaboration with Stonyhurst College Collections. The virtual showcase, "How bleedeth burning love": British Jesuit Province's Relics of the Forty Martyrs of England and Wales, presents treasured relics belonging to some of the priests and laypeople martyred for their Roman Catholic faith in England and Wales in the 16th and 17th centuries - many of whom were canonised by Pope Paul VI on 25 October 1970. These relics shine a light on an extraordinary period of English history, when men and women were persecuted and executed for their religious beliefs. Some of the relics in the exhibition demonstrate vividly the barbaric nature of the penalties inflicted upon those who held fast to faith and conscience, while others tell very personal stories of individual spiritual journeys of historic figures such as Thomas More and Mary, Queen of Scots. These relics have been treasured for centuries, valued for the powerful stories they tell, which have been passed from generation to generation.

Dr. Jan Graffius, curator of the Stonyhurst Collections, said: "The exhibition relates the stories of some of the many men and women whose bravery and resourcefulness helped to keep the Catholic faith alive in those days. It also explores the extraordinary, and often perilous, journeys of these relics before they came into the sanctuary of the possession of the British Jesuit Province." Among the relics in the exhibition are those of the famous Jesuits, St Edmund Campion, St Robert Southwell and Blessed Edward Oldcorne, who were all sent to be clandestine missionaries in Elizabethan England at a time when Catholics faced persecution. View the online exhibition here: www.jesuitcollections.org.uk.
